

Commission on the Accreditation of Medical Physics Education Programs

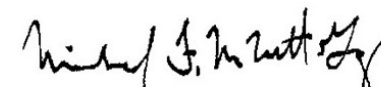

Be it known by all who view this that the Residency Program in Radiation Oncology Physics
Loyola University Medical Center
Maywood, Illinois

after careful review by the Residency Education Program Review Committee, has been determined by the Board of Directors to meet national standards for medical physics education and is therefore awarded accreditation.

This accreditation is valid through

December 31, 2027

Sponsoring organizations
American Association of Physicists in Medicine
American College of Radiology
American Society for Radiation Oncology
Canadian Organization of Medical Physicists
Radiological Society of North America

President

Secretary