

LOYOLA MEDICINE

C. COMMITMENT TO THE RESIDENT

Graduate Medical Education takes place in an environment of inquiry and scholarship, in which residents participate in the development of new knowledge, learn to evaluate research findings, and develop habits of inquiry as a continuing professional responsibility. Each accredited program has the responsibility to meet its educational goals as described in program descriptions and the forms which it submits to the Residency Review Committee. The goals and the outline of usual resident assignments for each year are available in the departmental offices. The department may find it necessary to modify resident assignments as required by personnel needs, educational resources, institutional patient-care responsibilities, and the career goals and academic progress of each resident.
